

Client confidentiality

Monday 5 January 2026

Version 1.0

© 2026 Aaran Beattie & Co. All rights reserved.

This document is provided for informational purposes only and does not constitute professional advice. Aaran Beattie & Co. makes no representations regarding the accuracy or completeness of its contents, which may not reflect current conditions. Reliance on this material is at the reader's own risk. Receipt of this document does not establish a client relationship.

Confidentiality is central to how Aaran Beattie & Co. operates. The firm's independence, low public profile, and deliberate discretion are integral to the work and to the trust placed in it.

All engagements proceed on the understanding that information shared by a client is confidential. Such information is used solely for the purposes of the engagement and is not disclosed, reused, or referenced outside that context without explicit permission.

The same standard applies in reverse. Material, perspectives, and judgements shared by the firm with a client are provided in confidence and are not intended for wider circulation.

The firm does not publicise client relationships or engagement details. Where themes or patterns are discussed in general terms, they are abstracted to avoid identification.

This statement does not override legal obligations requiring disclosure, which would be limited to what is strictly necessary.